ity and 3 inches in the west and north part of the State has swollen all streams, and a flood equal in extent to that of 1904 is feared.

Grand River tonight is 1.2 feet above the danger line, and Director Schneider of the weather bureau stated that there would be a further rise of 3 feet by Wednesday morning. Grand River has risen 3½ feet at Ionia today, and is still rising.

Dams and bridges on the Muskegon, Flat, Flint, Maple, Rouge, Menominee and other rivers in Western Michigan have been swept away, entailing great damage to railroad traffic, manufacturing, and also to farmers. Electric storms were general throughout the western and northern part of the lower peninsula, this afternoon, with a light snowfall at Traverse City. The afternoon downpour will greatly complicate the already serious situation. It is impossible to make an accurate estimate of the loss, but reports indicate it will reach at least $500,000 in this section of Michigan.

IN WESTERN MICHIGAN.
DAMAGE HALF A MILLION.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DETROIT (Mich.) June 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The damage caused by the storm in Western Michigan is estimated at $500,000, and the list of fatalities will probably be large. Eleven persons were injured at Kingsbury, near Ionia, a washout on the Pere Marquette road caused the death of W. Alvord, engineer, and H. Payne, fireman. Two wrecks occurred on the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee road, in which eight men were injured.

One man has been killed near Muskegon, which is cut off from railroad communication. Several factories and houses have been washed away. At Menominee, the river had inundated the district.

WYOMING CLOUDBURST.
FREIGHT DITCHED NEAR COBURN.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SHERIDAN (Wyo.) June 6.—A cloudburst in the mountains has occurred, and fifteen miles of railroad has been washed out between Coburn and Tolosa. The water washed ten cars of freight into the ditch. Thirteen miles of railroad was washed out between Cody and Tolosa.

OBITUARY.

Mrs Josephine Hone.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Mrs. Josephine Hone, widow of Charles Russell Hone and only daughter of the late John H. Hone, who died in 1901, and Adam Express Company, is dead at a sanitarium in Westchester, from paralysis. Her mother was before marrying Hone, Mrs. Russell, one of the greatest actresses of her day and a member of the Wallack company in New York. After her marriage she retired from the stage. Mrs. Hone was brought up in the greatest luxury and figured prominently in society. Financial reverses compelled her, some years ago, to give up the stage. She became a actress in a Fitch society drama and scored a success, but her health failed and cut short her professional career.

Edward A. Leslie.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Edward A. Leslie, general manager of the Kings County Bank, Brooklyn, New York, company, is dead at his home in Brooklyn from pneumonia and pleurisy. He was born in Harrisburg, Pa., in 1849 and began his business career as a messenger boy in the office of the Illinois and Mississippi Telegraph Company at Peoria, Ill. Then he joined a leather ranch and was made manager of the office at Lena, Ill. He finally came to New York and worked his way upward to high positions in the telegraphic and trans-Atlantic cable service. He became identified with the Kings County Company some years ago. He served in the Civil War with the Forty-sixth Illinois Volunteer Infantry, entering as a drummer boy, at the age of 16. He was a Mason of high degree.

SPEAKER GULLY RESIGNS.

LONDON, June 6.—At the close of Commons, William Conroy Gully officially announced his resignation on the ground of ill health, of the Speakerhip, which he had held for a decade. Premier Balfour and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman made brief speeches of regret after the news. The former announced that tomorrow he would introduce a resolution praying the King to elevate Gully to the peerage, as is customary in the case of the retirement of the Speaker of the House of Commons.

ELECTRICAL MEN IN DENVER.

DENVER, June 6.—The twenty-eighth annual convention of the National Electric Light Association opened here today with over one thousand delegates in attendance. Following the preliminary exercises, President Ernest H. Davis, of Williamsport, Pa., delivered his annual address and several papers on technical subjects were read. Elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment of the electrical men while in Colorado.

WANT LONDON BANK WOUND UP.

LONDON, June 6.—The bank of Glynn, Mills, Currie & Co. has petitioned the courts to order a compulsory winding up of the International Bank of London. The petitioners are creditors for upward of $1,250,000. The application adjourned for three weeks in order to see if the shareholders of the international bank will agree to voluntarily wind up its affairs.

LAWSON JUMPS ON THE AMALGAMATED.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, June 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas W. Lawson said "boo" to the stock market this afternoon, and it faded away. Amalgamated Copper, which was the center of his attack, broke three points, and the entire list followed it downward.

Lawson sent telegrams to every member of the Stock Exchange saying that the statement published by the Amalgamated Copper Company yesterday was gotten up for the purpose of helping out the pool which it loaded with 500,000 shares of stock. He intimated that court proceedings would be brought soon to expose the insincerity of the statement. He announced that he intended to disect this statement in a few days, and show that the Amalgamated was swindling the public now just the same as ever.

In the early part of the session, all stocks were fairly strong. The market was stagnant about midday, and it was not until Lawson's statement was published that it showed any life.

NEEDS OF THE EQUITABLE.

Call Issued for Meeting of the Directors.

Will Elect Chairman to Carry Out Policy.

Cassatt, Hyde and Mills are Dropping Things.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, June 6.—The call for tomorrow's meeting of the Equitable directors gives notice that, immediately after adjournment of the regular meeting, a special meeting will be held for the following purposes:

First—for amending the bylaws, so as to provide for the office of chairman of the board of directors and prescribing the powers and duties of the office, and "passing upon such other amendments to the bylaws as may be submitted to the meeting.

Second—for the election of a chairman of the board, to fill the office thus created.

Third—for the election of the chairman as a director of the society.

CASSATT RESIGNS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NEW YORK, June 6.—A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has resigned from the directorate of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Fourth Vice-president William H. Monteire was examined today by Superintendent Hendricks of the State Department of Insurance. Monteire is a supervisor of James H. Hyde, Hyde was on the first station to today.

"I have been greatly pained by the assertion in one of the morning papers that I had said of the gentlemen who have seen fit to resign from the Equitable that it was freeing ourselves of driftwood in the course of extenuating conditions these untruthful interviews with me are calculated to do more serious harm. As to the gentlemen referred to, no one can question their loyalty or their devotion to the Equitable board, and while I regret very much that their point of view did not coincide with mine, I do not think the best good of the large interests at stake to be served by recrimination."

The resignation of James H. Hyde was accepted by Superintendent Hendricks today also. H. R. Winthrop, financial manager of the Equitable society, Winthrop's examination was very brief.

It is understood that Hyde intends to resign from the Union Pacific and successor Railway and Navigation Company board of directors. These are Harriman's properties.

The resignation of D. O. Mills as director of the Equitable Society will be in the hands of President Alexander of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and at least one more will resign tomorrow, making, in all, ten resignations since the present troubles of the society began.

SUMMARY OF RESIGNATIONS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ST. PETERSBURG, June 6.—Reports have been received at army headquarters from Vladivostok indicating that the naval defeat was due largely to lack of leadership after Rojstvensky was wounded, the engagement being carried on practically without signals after the first hour and no attempt being made to adapt the movements of the fleet to meet the maneuvers of the Japanese.

Nobody on board any vessel in the fleet was in the secret as to Rojstvensky's plans, the commander-in-chief's only confident being Rear-Admiral Voelkers, who died early in the fight.

Up to the time of battle fortune favored Rojstvensky but no one on His Ships Cherished any illusions Even Then—Japanese Guns Were of Great Range.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, June 6.—Three more directors resigned today from the board of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and at least one more will resign tomorrow, making, in all, ten resignations since the present troubles of the society began.

The resignation of D. O. Mills as director of the Equitable Society will be in the hands of President Alexander of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and at least one more will resign tomorrow, making, in all, ten resignations since the present troubles of the society began.

BOSTON (Mass.) June 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The following is given out:

"One year ago, as the watchman made his regular rounds and sleepily dozed 'all's well' I shouted 'thieves,' and these noble guardians of widows' and orphans interests savagely yelled 'murder' and 'secondo.' The members of the royal American-dollar family called the public's attention to the fact that they could do no wrong; that all that was necessary for the public to know was that they had charge of gigantic funds—a billion and a quarter of them, stained, blood-stained savings, which the royal weeping Americans had saved and scraped together for the benefit of their families after their deaths, that, as they were keeping these funds intact, the public need inquire no further, and that all the tribe of iniquity, Watson, etc., be hanged.

I wrote the history of Frick and his Equitable company, what they were doing and what they could do.

Therefore, I cannot help saying,

PORTLAND'S ELECTION.

MAYOR IS A DEMOCRAT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

PORTLAND (Or.) June 6.—Dr. Harry Lane, Democrat, is Mayor-elect of Portland by a plurality of about 1,000 votes, according to the latest report. George H. Williams, Republican, is runner-up. With the exception of Dr. Lane and two Democratic Councilmen, the Republican ticket was elected in its entirety.

The privilege of initiative and referendum was exercised in yesterday's election, and the voter of granting a franchise to a telephone company was submitted to the people over the veto of the city council. The people voted for granting the privileges. Consequently Portland will have a competing telephone system.

HORRIBLE DEATH IN YOSEMITE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

YOSEMITE, June 6.—Charles A. Hart, a prominent resident of Berkeley, has been killed by falling from the precipice of El Capitan, a distance of 1500 feet.

In company with J. C. Staats of Mount Vernon, Ohio, Bailey started up the almost perpendicular face of the cliff, afeat which had never yet been accomplished. When he had climbed about half of the thousand-foot descent, he halted for a breath, and Staats clinging to the face of the rock below. Without a word, Bailey began to slide, shooting downward a few feet at a time. He fell rolling several times before he disappeared.

Staats was horror-stricken, but gathering courage he climbed down to a point where he found Bailey's hat and a blood-stained rock. Further than this he was unable to go, and he could not gain sight of the body. Most miraculously efforts he made his way to the top alone and at last reached the settlement almost prostrated from the physical and mental strain.

Guardian Harlow, with a large force of men, and accompanied by Dr. Martin H. Fischer of San Francisco, started with Staats to the scene of the tragedy but no word has yet come from them.

This is the first fatality to a tourist ever recorded here. Bailey had just returned from a fourteen months' trip around the world, climbing the Matterhorn and other mountains while absent. He had visited Yosemite for the past six summers, including the present.

Staats was the first to be a reception at Hotel Adams, Phoenix. Then the day will take the train for Yuma, and the site of the second great adventure.

First and a party of Los Angeles business men are expected to Wednesday morning. A reception will be given to them and they will be shown the best of what the city has to offer. Thursday they will be in Mesa, there to meet the returning explorers, with whom Senator St. George will leave in the evening for San Francisco.

REUT. BLASDELL MISSING.

UKIAH, June 6.—John Rhodes fell to an instant death over the new grade between Union and Juan Creek near Fort Bragg last Saturday. In the dark he got too close to the edge, which caved off, letting him fall a distance of 20 feet to the ground. He struck on his head and never regained consciousness.

Later—the party searching for the body of Bailey located it at 11 o'clock today. J. A. Snell of Calistoga and H. Spaulding of Ft. Bragg, who had been lowered by a rope 600 feet and by 1 o'clock had brought the corpse

American Ambassador Has Long Talk

With Spanish King During the Reception.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, June 6.—By Atlantic Cable. The King of Spain opened a long program of engagements today with the reception of the Diplomatic Corps at Buckingham Palace. All the Ambassadors and Ministers now in London, with the staffs of the embassies and the legations, attended, including Ambassador Reid and the other members of the American embassy.

Mr. Reid had quite a long talk with King Alfonso, who referred to some of the Ambassador's past services. At the request of the Spanish King, Mr. Reid presented Secretary Carter and the other members of the embassy to His Majesty.

Subsequently, King Alfonso, escorted by a detachment of Life Guards, proceeded to attend the celebration of mass at the Roman Catholic Cathedral at Westminster. There was some excitement on the way there, caused by the escort being thrown owing to their horses slipping on the wet asphalt.

King Edward toasted King Alfonso.

He expressed on behalf of the Queen and himself pleasure at the long-expected meeting, which, he said, was most gratifying to the wife of the British nation, whose wishes lie in friendly rivalry with the great country which you recently visited in welcoming Your Majesty with the acclamation which your daughter.

After felicitous reference to Queen Christina, King Alfonso concluded: "Spain and England often have allies. May they always remain so and above all march together for the benefit of peace, progress and civilization, the health of Your Majesty and the prosperity of the Spanish nation."

Speaking in French, King Alfonso replied: "I am profoundly moved. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for myself and my august mother for your kind words of welcome to this noble country, united with might by strong ties of common interest and ineffaceable pious memories. It was here my lamented father learned the duties of a constitutional sovereign, having always before him the august example of the great Queen who reigned over me, who filled with her goodness and glory almost a whole century. The cordiality of the sentiment, which has united our two royal families extending good will and happiness between Spain and Great Britain, which ought to develop in the future to the mutual advantage of the two friendly nations.

against Frank O. Stewart, supervisor of the Prescott forest reserve.

Stewart has been suspended while this is being done.

The charges consist of irregularities in disposing of government timber,

it being alleged that he allowed the Poland Mining Company to have wood for fuel without making the proper report.

Another charge is that he accepted a reduction on a private lumber bill, promising favors in return.

Stewart stated tonight that he has refuted these charges by affidavits of several persons who are charged to have received

CATTLE KING'S WILL.

TRUST CLAUSE IS UPHELD.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The Supreme Court this morning handed down a decision upholding the trust clause in the will of Cattle King Dunphy, the being attacked by his daughter, Mrs. Mary D. Flood.

When William Dunphy, the millionaire cattleman, died he left a will which gave all his property to his wife and his daughter, Jenny, as trustee under the trust clause. One-fifth of the income of his estate was to go to Mrs. Mary D. Flood, his married daughter, during her lifetime, and one-fifth of the principal of the estate was to be left to the children of the estate allotted to them by will.

Mrs. Flood brought suit to set aside this clause of her father's will.

MOROCCO QUESTION FORCES DELCASSE OUT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

PARIS, June 6.—(By Atlantic Co.) French government emphatically denied. PESSIMISM PREVAILS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

PARIS, June 6.—The cabinet discussion today while covering the general Moroccan situation, did not include a definite decision regarding the response which France proposes making to the Sultan's proposition for an international conference. This question will be dealt with subsequently.

Delcassey, in submitting his resignation, explained the reasons leading up to his action. He said he recognized that differences of view had arisen between himself and his colleagues relative to the future policy of the foreign policy of France, particularly concerning the direction of negotiations with Morocco. Therefore, he had believed it desirable, in the interest of the ministry and of the country, to place his resignation in the hands of the President.

Premier Rouvier, in responding, expressed the regret of his colleagues adding a tribute to Delcassey for past services. Rouvier thereupon announced that he would take upon himself, interim, the duties of the Minister of Foreign Affairs. Later, it was announced that Rouvier would hold the portfolio of foreign affairs indefinitely, probably yielding the Ministry of Finance—which he directs, in addition to being Premier—in order to devote his entire attention to the solution of the trouble in the foreign situation.

The final meeting between Delcassey and his colleagues, decided unusual interests, as he found that their statement united against the policy he had pursued. After explaining his views on the Moroccan and other questions, the ministers presented their views, thus showing complete discord. Delcassey himself said the divergences formerly existing had reached a stage where he found all his colleagues opposed to him. Therefore, he added, it remained for him to surrender his portfolio.

Delcassey's retirement from the council chamber brought out numerous evidences of personal esteem which, however, did not restrain the somewhat painful feeling caused by his resignation, following a divergence of views.

SATISFACTION IN BERLIN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BERLIN, June 6.—Delcassey's resignation of the post of Foreign Minister of France is commented upon by the German press with mixed satisfaction and some general satisfaction here, as well as the semi-official examination given out in Paris, openly admitting that his Morocco policy caused the downfall of the minister.

Premier Rouvier will take up the affairs of the Foreign Office tonight. If he decides eventually to select a successor it will probably be one of the members of the Cabinet, Jules Cambon, formerly at Washington, and Barrere, now at Rome, being the most prominent under consideration.

Diplomats attach much importance to Rouvier's assumption of the duties of the Foreign Office, as they regard him as being a statesman of unusual force, and they foresee marked results in the various pending international questions.

The change in the Cabinet is expected to ameliorate the Moroccan situation—first, because Germany, being satisfied with the fall of the Minister who ignored her during the early stages of the Moroccan negotiations, has decided to withdraw from the friendly spirit with his successor, and also because the new policy of France will probably seek to secure Germany's cooperation rather than prolonging the resistance to Germany's claims.

The resignation of Delcassey is due principally to the fact that he favored a policy in Morocco, the Sultan having practically rejected France's plans for the reform of the administration of Morocco by proposing that the whole subject be submitted to a conference of the powers signatory to the treaty of Madrid. Delcassey tendered his resignation April 21, but he was prevailed upon to retain the portfolio of foreign affairs.

On that occasion, in addition to the controversy over his Moroccan policy, the Foreign Minister had been severely criticized for his alleged action in permitting French officials in the Far East to connive with Russian breaches of neutrality in those waters, which the

HEADS OF RUSSIAN CITIES WANT PEACE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

MOSCOW, June 6.—(By Atlantic Co.) The All-Russian Zemstvo Congress, the delegates to which include the Mayors of twenty-five of the largest cities of Russia, met today, notwithstanding government prohibition, and resolved with practical unanimity to demand the convocation of a zemsky sobor and the submission of the question of peace or war.

The morning and afternoon sessions of the congress were held without interference on the part of the authorities, although the afternoon session, which assembled in an open hall, had to be adjourned to a private house because of a crowd of auditors present, the president of the congress stating that he was assured the police would interfere unless the meeting should be held behind closed doors.

Practically all the delegates are in favor of peace, wishing a zemsky sobor called for the sole purpose of acting on this question.

The sessions of the congress will be continued tonight.

in the dispatches that Ambassador Von Sternberg is acting as an intermediary, the opinion prevails that Emperor William is actively supporting the President.

Nevertheless, the diplomats are not sanguine of a practical result, as there is still no evidence that Emperor Nicholas is ready to yield.

Baron De Rosen, who succeeds Count Cassini at Washington, leaves St. Petersburg tomorrow, but this does not mean that he is hastening his sailing to the United States, the date of which remains June 28. This also is significant of the Emperor's attitude. Count Cassini will not await the arrival of his successor, but will sail for Europe about the same date. The new and the old ambassadors will thus pass each other in mid-ocean.

KAISER FOR PEACE.

REFRAINS FROM ADVICE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Regarding the attitude of Emperor William toward the war in the Far East, the Associated Press is authorized to say that, from the beginning of the war, the Emperor has been anxious for peace. He, however, has refrained from advising either of the belligerents, believing that, until one or the other should intimate a wish to conclude peace, any intervention or offer of mediation would prove futile.

The Emperor, however, has let his strong desire for peace be known.

MOONSHOWER, HIS FINISH.

Degraded Prisoner Strangles
Himself in Jail.

With a Silk Cravat He Does the Fatal Business.

Makes Widow of the Wife
He Dragged Down.

After having forced his wife down to the lowest depths of degradation, H. Moonshower found he had a conscience, and remorse drove him to self-destruction in a felon's cell in the City Jail.

Moonshower chose a horrible route to the next world—strangulation. Tying a silk cravat in a slipknot about his neck, he attached the other end securely to a bar of his cell and then slipped off his elevated bunk and slowly choked while half reclining against his cot and swinging several feet from the floor.

That his suffering was intense was shown by the fearfully distorted features, and the swollen condition of his throat and face.

Jailer Hubbard discovered the body about 9:15 o'clock last night. Less than two hours before Hubbard had made his round of the cells and at that time Moonshower was alive and apparently at peace with himself.

Moonshower, a human being with few redeeming qualities, was arrested Monday morning on a felony complaint, which charged that he had deliberately placed his young wife in a house of ill fame on Court street, and was living off the proceeds of vice. The wife herself was the complainant to Capt. Ariele Moonshower, who was awaiting an examination in the Police Court.

Husband and wife came to Los Angeles several weeks ago from Sacramento. No one ever accused Moonshower of doing an honest day's toll. The wife is said to be a member of a good family in Michigan, where she was born and raised. The father was advised by wire last night of the felony charge against Moonshower, a short time before the corpse was discovered. Mrs. Moonshower herself dictated the telegram in Capt. Ariele's office and departed ignorant of the fact her husband was dead in the upper portion tank and she was alone. The body was sent to Pierce Bros' morgue, where an inquest will be held this afternoon.

Tramp Who Committed Several
Robberies and Attacked a Woman
Gets Fifteen Years—Receiver of Stolen Goods Accuses Officers of Railroading Him to State's Prison.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES]

BAKERSFIELD, June 6.—C. K. Wilson, who was convicted of robbing Miss Lincoln during the hold-up epidemic last winter, and who is believed to have participated in many other crimes, was sentenced by Superior Judge Mahon yesterday to fifteen years' imprisonment. Wilson had checked his value from a northern city to Los Angeles, and stopped over in this city while en route. Among some of the robbery cases that he is believed to have committed was the holding up of the Half-way House, where in a pistol duel Proprietor Borgwardt was severely shot in the shoulder, and the robbery of T. V. Dous, an oil man, who was robbed of money and valuables.

Miss Lincoln identified Wilson as the man who ran her door bell, and when she responded the masked intruder snatched her jewelry.

ROASTED THE OFFICERS.

Frank Rhodes, who was convicted in Judge Bennett's court of receiving stolen goods that were carried off from a freight train in this city, sufficient property being found in his possession to have started a ladies' garment establishment, was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment. Rhodes, after telling the court officers in severe manner before sentence was pronounced, Sheriff Kelly, Under-Sheriff Thomas Baker and Santa Fe Detective Gilmore were in turn roasted by Rhodes, who said they were roasting him to the penitentiary.

Joe Stoll pleaded guilty to burglarizing the department store of Ardis & Olesce at Kern, and was given ten years imprisonment at Folsom.

HER LITERATURE IMPROPER.

DR. STOCKHAM FOUND GUILTY.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

CHICAGO, June 6.—Judge S. H. Beethen, in the Federal Court, has directed a verdict of guilty against Dr. Alice B. Stockham, 71 years old, and Edward B. Beckwith, manager of the Stockham Publishing Company, charged with circulating improper literature by the way of the mail.

In deciding the case, Judge Beethen said: "When the laws were framed it was not believed the general discussion of the marriage relation was advisable. If these persons believe they are right in reaching subjects so that the young may learn of them they should have the right to do so, but the laws of the land demand that we uphold the law as it stands."

Among the witnesses for the defense was the Rev. Hiram W. Thomas. Dr. Thomas testified that he believed the Grape-Nuts was a valuable means of healthful, even to the young, and that Mrs. Stockham has for years been doing a work which is to be commended, and not scoffed at.

It was asserted by Dr. Stockham and her witnesses that she had been in the hospital for several years, and never had been questioned by the government in regard to the mailing of what she said was medical advice. She declared she received hundreds of letters from persons who had read her books, thanking her for helping them.

CRIMINAL BRIEFS.

PLEADS GUILTY TO ASSAULT.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SACRAMENTO, June 6.—This afternoon, John Cowley pleaded guilty to a charge of having assaulted Michael Hutchinson with a knife, with intent to commit murder. He was sentenced to five years' imprisonment at San Quentin.

COLLINS FILES BRIEF.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—George D. Collins, under indictment by the Grand Jury for bigamy, filed a brief in support of his defense this morning, the gist of which was that a person could not be prosecuted here for a crime committed in Illinois.

LABORITE MUST HANG.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) June 6.—The Supreme Court today affirmed the sentence of the Jackson county criminal court, which found Edgar Bailey guilty of killing Albert Ferguson, a non-union hack driver, in Kansas City, in March, 1904, and sentenced him to be hanged on July 13, 1905.

CHARGES AGAINST WOODMAN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—John P. O'Donnell, clerk of Golden Gate Camp, Woodmen of the World, one of the largest organizations in the country, is de-claimed about $5000 short in his accounts.

Chief-Commander David Oliver, Jr., Consul-Commander of camp, gave two complaints, charging O'Donnell with embezzlement of $611 and $502. The full amount is said to be much more.

CHICAGO ROBBER KILLED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
CHICAGO, June 6.—An unidentified robber who entered the fruit store of Tiehkes Bros. in Ravenswood, a suburb, early today, was shot and instantly killed by Michael Tiehkes, a member of the firm. A white robber entered the store and commanded John Tiehkes, who was behind the counter, to hold up his hands. The noise made by the intruders awakened Tiehkes, John's brother, who had been asleep in a rear room. Michael seized a revolver and fired three shots, killing the white robber. The negro died.

TRIAL OF MAESTRETTI.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Two witnesses, Police Judge Cabaniss and C. M. Silberstein, were examined today during the trial of Frank Maestretti, president of the Board of Public Works, who is charged with participation in election frauds. The testimony of Judge Cabaniss related to the preliminary examination of Charles Wyman, who was convicted of stuffing the election board last August. Silverstein acted on the election board with Wyman. He swore on the witness stand that Maestretti had urged him not to testify against Wyman.

FAILS TO ROB SAFE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
YOSEMITE, June 6.—An unsuccessful attempt was made last night to rob the safe of the Sentinel Hotel. George Potter, an employee of the hotel, discovered the intruder and took two shots at him, but he escaped. This morning a kit of burglar tools was found in the cellar beneath the office. The floor was cut away from under the safe and the bottom of the safe was almost cut away. An hour more and it would have been looted. The safe is small and the haul would have been insignificant.

WEAVER'S AX WORKING.

Heads of Two More Philadelphia Ring-sters Fall Into Reform Mayor's Basket.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Arthur R. Morrow, assistant director of the department of supplies, who was suspended during the gas-light-lease fight, resigned tonight at the request of Mayor Weaver. Andrew P. Chiam, once clerk in the office of the Receiver of Taxes and who was removed at the instance of Morrow for political reasons some time ago, was given Morrow's place.

Another appointment announced was that of Frank E. Smith, assistant chief of the bureau of highways, who was promoted to the position of chief, in place of William H. Brooks, who was removed at the instance of Morrow.

The shake-up in the departments has extended to the police force. Today, twenty-five policemen faced the police board of inquiry to answer various charges of dereliction of duty.

Mayor Weaver has written to each of the banks and trust companies that are depositaries of city funds a letter requesting statements relative to amounts and balances held July 1, 1905, but particularly inquiring whether a large amount of interest is paid on deposits other than those of the city.

A SURPRISE PARTY

How the Authoress Turned the Tables on Her Friends.

A distinguished authoress with her husband moved to a California fruit ranch to get free from stomach and nervous troubles. She tells her food story as follows:

"The change to outdoor life, abundance of fresh fruit, etc., did help us some, but as the necessity of cutting out all indigestible foods and thus striking at the root of the trouble, had not sufficiently impressed itself on our minds, we continued to indulge our appetites, till at last I was prostrated for a long time with a severe illness, during which I was simply starved on 'gruel and things.' One day while in this condition I demanded Grape-Nuts, merely because I wanted something I could chew. My wish was complied with, under protest at first, however, and then as no bad results followed, the crisp, nutty grains were allowed me in the way of a harmless whim."

"To the surprise of everyone, the stomach, which had persistently refused to retain the sloppy messes usually fed to sick folks, readily assimilated the Grape-Nuts, and I was able to take two spoonfuls three times a day, and when I got to that point my health and strength came back to me rapidly. On recovery, and taking up my work again, I adhered to Grape-Nuts food for breakfast and supper, eating a cool, plain dinner at noon. In four weeks I gained 10 pounds in weight. I have constantly used Grape-Nuts food ever since and greatly to my advantage."

"My faith in Grape-Nuts was a matter of much jesting to my family, and once when my birthday came around, I was told that a special dinner would be prepared to honor the anniversary. When I entered the dining room I was surprised to find it decorated with Grape-Nuts boxes, some empty, some full and some filled with flowers, etc., etc., and the joke was hilariously enjoyed. My time came, however, when I returned the surprise by producing a delicious Grape-Nuts pudding, and dates stuffed with rolled Grape-Nuts and cream. Then those who came to scoff remained to gorge themselves, if I may be pardoned the expression. It has not been difficult since that day to win converts to Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Teen days' trial is proof.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Robbed the Angelus.

Col. Eddy has reported to the police that the city's flight was burglarized Sunday night. In fact he lost $5, besides $35 worth of tickets.

Get into Her Desk.

Mrs. M. F. Carter, of the Granville Hotel, North Olive street, reports that a thief broke into her writing desk, taking $21 and the blotting-pad.

Athena Open Meeting.

In connection with the commencement exercises of the University of Southern California, the Athena Literary society will hold its annual open meeting this evening in the college chapel. An interesting programme is promised.

Want More Humane Study.

The Child Study Circle of the Twenty-fourth street school held its annual meeting for the year yesterday and elected officers. An address was delivered by Superintendent Foshey and much interest was manifested in the meeting. Strong resolutions were adopted for presentation to the Board of Education urging upon them the importance of yet more thorough humane study in the schools.

That Angel Child.

An angel child of the district messenger force, Frank Bell, was arrested yesterday for throwing knives at a sausages maker on Mott alley. The cherub became offended because the sausages man would not let him use the grindstone. Having missed hitting the sausages man, the dear child took an ax and chopped a piece out of the grindstone. He was arrested for disturbing the peace.

Nurse Graduation.

The commencement exercises of the Training School for Nurses of the California Institute will be held this evening at Bianschard Hall. Twenty-six Nurses will receive their diplomas, the exercises being accompanied by an interesting programme of music and oratory. An address will be made by Dr. Wood Hutchinson, of Portland, Or., and the address of the pastor of the city will be made by Dr. John R. Hayes. The diplomas will be delivered by Dr. F. T. Hicknell, president of the board of directors. A reception and dance will be given to the graduates at the hotel, following the exercises in the hall.

Inconvenient Debts.

George W. Scott, who gives his occupation as that of a watchman in this city, yesterday filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. He alleges his debts to be up $100, and his assets, not to be. The big end of this man's financial burden, all of which was contracted in Denver, was a division among five doctors for medical attention. He didn't move to Los Angeles soon enough. R. A. Avery, the keeper of a restaurant at San Bernardino, also asked to be permitted to unload an inconvenient burden of bills. His only assets amount to $384.50, entirely made up of the bills of big-time poor-payers at the lunch-counter, while he owes to sundry tradesmen the sum of $179.72.

Remarkable Family.

Mrs. Z. L. Sargent, whose maiden name was Louisa Young, has been visiting one of her sons in Los Angeles and recently left for Oregon, where she has a sister living. Mrs. Sargent is a remarkable member of a remarkable family, having four sisters, the youngest of whom is 72 years of age. She is an old lady who was preserved, traveling across the continent unattended. She was born in Maine, going thence to Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota, where she had many interesting experiences, among the Indians. Mrs. Sargent has given birth to twelve children, all of whom attained maturity, and nine of whom still live, at ages varying from 40 to 62 years. The portraits of the four old ladies show that they come from sturdy stock, such as built up the great West, before days of palace cars.

Chautauqua Rally.

There was a Chautauqua rally at Hotel Westminster on Monday evening, when Prof. George R. Crow, who has been at the head of the Chautauqua movement in Southern California for many years, tendered a reception to Chautauquans and their friends. He was assisted by Mrs. Crow and members of his family in receiving and entertaining the guests, a large number of whom gathered in the spacious assembly hall of the hotel. A short program was given, Mrs. Ernestine Foster providing and introducing the exercises with a brief résumé of the educational features that have been provided for the coming Chautauqua session at Long Beach next month. Mr. Behymer also told the rally that the bright spot in the way of musical entertainment, and Mr. Baumgart revealed the platform attractions in the way of lecturers who have been secured. The programme was interspersed by vocal selections by Mrs. Baumgart and Miss Mollie A. Brown with piano accompaniment by Miss Elizabeth Jordan. Mrs. Bean, an active member of a local Chautauqua circle, gave a charming little talk about the benefits of physical exercise during the past year in members of the singing circle. At the conclusion of the programme white handkerchiefs fluttered in a Chautauqua salute for Prof. Crow in token of the affectionate regard in which he is held as the leader of the Chautauqua movement in Southern California, and whose weight of years and feeble health permits him no longer to assume active leadership.

BREVITIES.

The volume of "Liners" in the Sunday Times has become so great that it is found necessary to ask patrons to get their Sunday advertisements in earlier; especially since the state of advertising, which in order to be printed must be in the office not later than 10 o'clock Saturday nights. The printing of all real estate matter, including advertisements in a part by itself on Sundays involves somewhat additional work in the office, and in order to get the paper out on time, to stop receiving real estate ads at 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Dealers will confer a favor on the Times office if they will turn in Sunday ads on Friday, when possible, or at least a part of it, and the balance early on Saturday. Sunday "Want" ads will still be received by phone and over the counter until 11 o'clock Saturday nights.

The ladies' rest room on the top floor of the Hotel Westminster Building is open daily from 9 to 5. Ladies from town or country will find this a convenient place to write, rest or read. Stationery provided for correspondence. Both phones available. Take elevator in business office. All are welcome.

FAIR WOMEN GREET KNIGHTS.

Stunning Reception Given to the Archbishop.

Bright Feature of the Visit of the Columbiads.

Proceedings of Council and Happiness of Day.

A myriad of sweet sounds poured through Cumming Hall last evening and rang in the ears of illustrious guests of honor.

A lovely galaxy of white-robed ladies bowed and swayed lightly to the music as His Grace, Archbishop George Montgomery, arrayed in a robe of royal purple and red, with cape of purple over his shoulder, followed by Bishop Conaty in robe of black and purple, appeared, a distinguished pair, at the heavy door of the hall. These elegant vestments are the ecclesiastical street robes worn by the bishop in Rome.

The scene in all its glory was the brilliant reception given by the Good Shepherd Auxiliary in honor of the archbishop, and nearly five hundred of his old friends grasped hands and enjoyed a chat with this amiable prelate.

A thousand lights shone brightly through the rooms and a thousand may blossoms added their sweet quota to the effect.

Glimmering above, the receiving party like a great diamond pendant, against the deep red tones of the curtains, cast out the insignia of mitre and croziers in so many shimmering lights, and the words of welcome also embazoned joyfully all around.

Behind the party were masses of young girls whose fairy bells almost tinkled messages of peace and welcome to all and soft waves of asparagus ferns fell lightly over the room, caught by great pink and blue and silver and gold ornaments.

A pearl necklace and pearl ornaments finished the distinctive costume.

Mrs. Joseph Meamer was attired in white point d'esprit over silk with lace and ribbon ornaments and a broad diamond ornament.

Mrs. Alice Hancock was also in black chiffon over black jet and heavily embroidered net with lace trimming.

Mrs. Agnes McDermott was a dainty breath of spring in a pale green chiffon over silk and trimmed with tiny pink rosesbuds and lace.

Mrs. Erasmus Wilson wore a most elegant gown made décolleté of lace with rose point lace with rose shades of pink and blue and finished with diamond ornamentation.

A pearl necklace and pearl ornaments finished the distinctive costume.

Edward L. Doheny wore a becoming frock of blue silk with rose point lace and sleeve trimming of lace and velvet ornaments. The wore diamonds.

Miss Gertrude Ferguson wore pale blue chiffon and lace.

There were ever so many lovely gowns and bewitching women who were the equals of the distinguished churchmen and everything was as full of beauty as human hearts might wish for.

Then, reviving with Archbishop Montgomery and Bishop Conaty and Mr. Barnett, was Miss Helena Modjeska, that radiant woman, who has seen so many inspirations. Her presence was a delight to all.

One of the most brilliant ornaments of silken lace, and cloth of gold in tones varying from the deeper browns to gold, and with diamond and pearl ornaments. In her hand she carried a fetching bouquet of red sweet peas and hair ferns, the bishop's colors. In fact, each one of the receiving ladies carried one of these bouquets presented by Miss Ida Hancock, the beloved president of the auxiliary.

At the side of the bishop, Mrs. Ida Hancock stood in a most elegant gown of white point lace over chiffon and silk made with court train, and set royalty in her hair a large brooch of the valley.

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS:

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
The Police Commission yesterday adjudged Thomas Doran, proprietor of the Budweiser saloon, guilty of selling liquor to a minor, but gave him three weeks in which to dispose of his license and retire from the saloon business.

"FLOATER" FOR AN OFFENDING SALOON-KEEPER.

Proprietor of "Budweiser" Adjudged Guilty but Given Three Weeks to Dispose of License and Get Out of the Saloon Business—Brewery Money for Evidence.

Guilty, but with extenuating circumstances, was the verdict of the Police Commission yesterday in the case of Thomas Doran, proprietor of the Budweiser saloon, charged with selling liquor to minors.

Willing to give Doran the benefit of the doubt, the commissioners voided his license to take effect July 1, but with the provision that if he transfers the license to other parties before that time the revocation will be called off.

Doran's barkeeper was arrested and fined a month ago for selling three bottles of whisky to Guy Manville, a youth of 15 years.

At the first hearing of the case Commissioners Mason and Johnson wanted to revoke the license on the evidence given by police officers. Doran's attorney asked for time to produce evidence showing minors bad not the evidence.

This evidence proved to be Private Detective Tom Quinn, who testified that Detective Hatchett had offered to pay him liberally if he would secure evidence against the Budweiser that would result in lifting the license.

Commissioner Rexford wanted to know to whom Quinn looked for his pay. Quinn said that Hatchett had assured him that the money would be forthcoming; that a local brewery was furnishing the brews of day.

"Which brewery?" asked Commissioner James, Gates and Mason in one breath.

But Quinn's memory suddenly played him false.

"I might have heard the name," he drawled, "but I have forgotten it."

The last words for information in the hearing went glistening.

Quinn managed to recollect, however, that he had sent a number of boys to the Budweiser to purchase flasks of whisky, but they had all been turned down.

Commissioner Johnson moved that the evidence be revoked. He said the evidence of the police officers was sufficient to convict Doran, and that to permit him to retain the license would be tantamount to making a farce of the law.

"Second the motion," promptly called Commissioner Mason.

Just then there was a commotion up near the head of the commission table.

"Wait a minute," called a voice that seemed to come out of the depths of the crowd, and not from any one throat.

"Gentlemen, you have heard the question," began the Mayor in measured tones.

"Wait a minute," again called the voice. The same question followed.

"We have $6000 invested in that saloon," came from the owner of the voice. "If you revoke the license, we might as well throw our money into the street. We have no right to be here here. Five thousand dollars is not picked up every day."

And Hugo Goldsmith breathed hard and mopped the perspiration from about his eyes.

It was the first intimation to the commissioners that Doran was not the party whose money was at stake.

Commissioner James moved as an amendment to Johnson's motion that the date of revocation be set far enough in advance that Doran should have an opportunity to transfer his license and go out of business.

Hollingsworth was cross-examined so by the waiter that at last he got his safe arrival at Glendora.

The rancher, his box, and the waiter-attorney.

O. H. if ever G. Hollingsworth gets home to Glendora with his new $12.50 suit of store clothes this will be a glad word.

The police can then sleep o' nights again.

He's been a week today trying to get his suit home.

It has been one long trial of disasters. Every person who had anything to do with that pea-green pasteboard box in which Hollingsworth packed his store clothes, has been hoodooed.

Three men, including Hollingsworth, have been arrested, the prosecuting attorney "jumped on" by the court and the Police Department was embarrassed by the whole thing.

Hollingsworth is a respectable Glendora rancher with an occasional thirst. He had no troubles until he yielded to an itch to have a suit of new store clothes.

The first man to fall under their hoodoo was a waiter of the Jonathan Club named Phillip Smith. He went around with Hollingsworth to a department store to pick them out, he being a connoisseur in sartorial elegance.

They picked out a suit for $12.50 that would have put Beau Brummel on the 5-cent counter.

Hollingsworth of Glendora was dazed with the suit, his mind blanked with the pea-green box under his arm, failing into drink stations.

As he thought about it, he couldn't make up his mind to spring them for the first time in such a limited orbit as Glendora. He recklessly resolved to do the night in town; he's been here ever since.

He let Smith take the precious new rags home to his room to keep until the formal debut; then he grew suspicious and had Smith arrested before he could get there.

Smith is a long, lean waiter with looks like a wet rat and the mein of a skunk. He was born in Dixie. He got out after his arrest upon acting as his own attorney; Hamlet as a cross-examiner is amazed.

He got so fascinated with his own forensics that he kept finding excuses to have the case go on from day to day; each day he had a whack at getting Hollingsworth out.

It went on until Hollingsworth—driven to drink—got into jail himself and couldn't get out. And after while one of the witnesses got arrested. Then the other tragedied.

There will not be another night's sleep at the station until they know for certain against Mrs. Hopkinson for the amount she is out of pocket.

SAD WELCOME.

DORA JOSEPHINE INSANE.

A heart-stirring incident occurred yesterday afternoon, just after 17-year-old Dora Josephine, who had been ordered committed to the State Hospital at Patton by Judge York. The father, mother, brother and this sister, Dora, are Russian-Jews and arrived in New York a year ago. Distraught by the noise and bustle of the great American city, the girl fell off a car and then was struck on the head by a horse in a passing vehicle. With the stolid resilience of her country-peoples, the girl worked on all the day without complaint, though her head hurt.

After Mrs. Browning got back to her seat in the audience, Miss Brass got up with a gay eye and shouted across the courtroom:

"If Mrs. Browning says that she was a woman of means, I want her to know that she was very much mistaken; I never considered her such."

Mrs. Browning jumped excitedly out of her seat with her plumes bobbing.

"I meant no enemies."

"I distinctly—" began Miss Brass, "as though ladies, ladies," beseeched Justice Chambers, and managed to still the storm.

Someone paid Miss Brass's fine and she was allowed to go.

AT THE COURTHOUSE:

TRICK OF PIKE NOW TURNED.

FAILS AT LAST TO CONTROL THE EASTERN CONSOLIDATED.

Spent Money Like Water and Elected His Directors in Maine, but Their Underpinning is Knocked Away in California by a Local Court Decision.

L. E. Pike & Co., of unsavory memory in connection with lurid manipulation of oil stocks, and brazen page advertisements in eastern papers about the holdings of oil bearing lands by the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company in Southern California, in all probability will end his quietus residence as far as the Eastern Consolidated is concerned.

Pike is himself the "company" also.

He is the whole thing—and for about four months past he has been waging a fight for the control of proxies to be used at the annual meeting of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company in Portland, Me., April 5. The contest was between Pike and George W. Bennett, each of course having friends behind them. Before the annual meeting was held Pike sued out a writ of mandamus to compel those in possession to surrender, and by injunction sought to restrain them from acting as officers of the corporation.

Bennett and his friends took the stand that Pike's election of a board of directors was a miserable fizzle and that their trio were the only shareholders of the Eastern Consolidated.

The main issue before Judge Correy before Judge Correy and the arguments lasted for two days last week.

Attorney T. C. Thornton and associates appearing for the Pike faction, and Attorney John M. Marshall representing the Bennett faction.

Marshall contended that while the bylaws of the company provided for the election of five directors its charter provided for but three, and under no conditions could the bylaws override the charter.

The court, in sustaining the demurrer, practically decided that the Pike trio ought to have raised the issue in a quo warranto proceeding.

The effect of the decision is to maintain in control the officers who have been bringing the Eastern Comsolidated Corporation in a shambles in which Pike and his following had sunk it; though the litigation forced it into a temporary set-back.

FISHERMEN'S PROTEST. The application for a wharf franchise at San Pedro by the Joseph Fellows' yacht and Marine Supply Company came up yesterday before the Supervisors.

The protest was also read of the fishermen of Wilmington, who drew the attention of the Supervisors to the fact that the tide land applied for under the original application is identical with that set apart by the Supervisors some time ago. The matter was referred to the District-Attorney.

CITY WATER SUITS. After protracted argument yesterday, the suit of the city of Los Angeles against Jesse Hunter, et al., was continued by Judge Conroy until September 27, on which date the four suits yet remaining in the series will be consolidated to go so far as they will be tried together.

DEAL SLIPS UP.

AND WOLFF CLAIMS DECEIT.

I. E. Pike, the stock broker and "Solicitor agent for a time of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company, has received a knockout blow in the Superior Court of this county.

But after all this preliminary skirmishing, Pike succeeded in getting the most proxies and the full number were cast for five directors—the choice of Pike.

Under the terms of the original application for the tide land, the five directors were to be elected by the voters of the city of San Pedro.

But the voters of the city of San Pedro were up to in only voting for three. The two slates were made up as follows: Pike's directors

GLENDORA RANCHER'S GREEN MISCHIEF-BOX.

HAD LAST WORD.

TWIN BROTHER DIDN'T SERVE. E. E. Hutchison is the man who tried to get a mythical twin brother to shoulder the responsibility of a prior conviction that stood against his name. He contended that the county officials had got his brother and his twin mixed up, and that his brother never was tried before. But the excuse would not go down with the jury. Hutchison was convicted of the burglary charge and also of having been convicted before. Yesterday he was before Judge Smith for sentence.

The court remanded Hutchison sentence to the court of North Spring street—which he actually did—and posed as a purchaser of Wolff's place merely to get a business knowledge of his stock and his

"DUSTLESS" BACKS DOWN.

Company Claiming Road-oil Monopoly in Court.

Prompt Dismisses Its Suit
When Called.

No Trial on Merits of Case for a While

The public won the first real contest with the Dustless Roads Company in the Federal Court yesterday morning. After bringing suit after suit against first one and then another county, city or private contractor or corporation for infringing its alleged patent, after years of preliminary skirmishing, spent in arguing demurrers and motions, the complaining corporation yesterday for the first time found itself driven to bay, where it had to either fight or quit. It decided to quit, and the first case that has been brought all through the maze of technical preliminaries and made ready to go before the court squarely on its merits was dismissed by the plaintiff.

The case was that against Contractor Oakley of this city who used oil for road making under a contract. To prevent the possibility of any judgment being given in his favor, the company defends all suits brought by the plaintiff, no matter who the nominal defendant may be, and District Attorney Fredericks was on hand yesterday for the defense.

The excuse given by the Dustless people for refusing to go to trial was that they had expected to have another case—that the same city of Redlands instead, although the Oakley case was set months ago on the records of the Federal Court. In order to bring matters to a head District Attorney Fredericks offered in open court, upon payment of costs by the plaintiff, to consent to a compromise if the date delayed, on the sole condition that the Dustless people would pledge themselves to go to trial on the date set without any further delay.

The justice of this proposition seemed to appeal strongly to Judge Wellborn, and His Honor was not slow to express his opinion to that effect. He told the plaintiff, "I am satisfied plainly that we would either accept it or go to trial at once."

Attorney Lyon, representing the Dustless people, thereupon announced that he would move for a dismissal of the suit, and when this was done, the Redlands case was set for trial on October 29 next. It resulted in the first direct attempt to get the long-pending litigation to trial on its merits.

The desire to try the Redlands case first was perhaps not without reason. Some years ago, when the Dustless patent was first sprung upon the unsuspecting public there was a few who gave it a passing glance. And now it was the city of Redlands, and now it is likely that the company's legal advisers hope to make capital out of this fact.

NOT A NEW THING.

Had the case gone to trial Attorney Fredericks was prepared. He had ammunition in plenty for the fight, among other things sixteen affidavits of persons who used oil on roads all over California, from San Francisco to San Diego, from 1885 to 1894, the last date being two years prior to the application for the patent. The corporation that is now trying to levy tribute on the entire State and country.

According to the Petroleum Age of April, 1887, published at Bradford, Pa., oil was used at that time for laying dust in the streets of Baku, Russia, in the Caspian oil fields. It has also been used in a number of other parts of the world.

In the East a number of corporations and communities have yielded and paid royalties, and the desire to avoid the risk of an adverse judgment that would probably shut off this revenue has probably something to do with the company's reluctance to go to trial.

BUILD FOR THE FUTURE.

Friend of the Ranchers Calls Upon City to Reach Out and Secure Adequate Water Supply.

J. C. Ostendorf of Castle Cove writes to The Times in the interest of a broader water-policy for the city, and calls attention to the fact that it is an abundant food-supply that makes any community prosperous.

He ridicules the idea that water should be taken from one section to supply another, saying that such an idea is conceived in ignorance and born in stupidity. He reminds the city of Los Angeles of its annual report of the Water Commissioners, they claimed that the amount of water the city might secure from the San Fernando valley ranchers by depriving them of their rights, and that the city would supply 32-year-old demands and would supply 32-year-old additional population. It is further cited by the writer that this water has not yet been secured, but the increase in population has more than come, and still there is plenty of water for the present. What the city needs is a comprehensive system for securing water outside the natural source of the city and building for generations to come, instead of for a few years, as was suggested by Senator Shaw, when he left.

The man in question is Mr. Ostendorf, of Castle Cove, and he is a member of the Board of Education. He is a man of great influence in the city, and his views are well known. "COL" BLACK DEAD.

Local Sporting Man Succumbs to Heart Disease While on a Trip Around the World.

F. D. Black, one of the proprietors of the poolroom at the end of the Central Avenue car line, died Monday in Los Angeles. The news came in a telegram received in this city yesterday by Thomas Fitzgerald, his partner, from Mrs. Black, who left here in company with her husband about six weeks ago on a trip around the world. They were traveling leisurely and had just reached Hongkong when the fatal summons came.

Black was a sport in every sense of the word, and since coming to Los Angeles, about seventeen years ago, has followed gambling as a business and amassed a fortune from it. For many years the firm of Black & Fitzgerald conducted a large business in the West First street, where the Fischer Theater is now located; had the "field" book during the various race meetings held here and conducted a poolroom on West First street; and when driven out of the city by an anti-poolroom ordinance, set up business at the end of Central avenue.

San Bernardino and Orange, [NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

SURE THEY ARE MARRIED.

SECOND LICENSE ISSUED TO A LOS ANGELES COUPLE.

They Eloped to San Bernardino and There Misstated Their Ages, but Now Their Mothers Have Consented—Upland Boy Accused of Serious Crime Is Released.

SAN BERNARDINO. June 6.—A duplicate marriage license was issued today to Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Edwards, mothers respectively of Charles Campbell and Gertrude Edwards, the Boyle Heights couple who were married by Justice C. L. Thomas Saturday morning. In the application for the license obtained by the elopers, they gave their ages as 21 and 18, respectively, but from affidavits of the two mothers, which were made today before Deputy County Clerk Post, giving consent of the parents to the marriage of the couple, the mothers state the age of the bride is 17, and that of young Campbell 18.

GAVE HIM A CHANCE.

Sam Myers, a twelve-year-old boy of Upland, was brought to the County Jail this afternoon by Constable Sawyer, charged with burglary. On the boy's mother made a pathetic plea for him to the District Attorney, asking that the youngster be given a chance to go free, giving him a lecture on his misdeeds. It appears that Myers, with a number of other children, are supposed to have been stealing pigeons and chickens about Upland for a long time. One day he broke into a residence, and later the family missed a watch and $2. Constable Sawyer was quick to locate the intruder, companions of the Myers boy stating that he had committed the burglary, and though they were with him, he had been the one to do it. Myers denied the charge, but soon confessed, but refused to tell where the watch had been concealed. The timepiece was later found, with his assistance, buried beneath a lemon tree near his home, but the money has not been recovered, and he denies having taken it.

IS HE A FORGER?

A denouncer of the complaint in the criminal case against Fred Eldridge, former boss of the water section of the Santa Fe at Needles, was filed by his attorney with the Superior Court this morning, the attorney arguing that as the complainant alleges that Eldridge forged the name of General Foreman Woods of the bridge building department to a railroad pass, selling it to a Mexican to ride between Needles and Barstow, he cannot be guilty of forgery under the definition of the Penal Code, which expressly omits railroad passes from the string of instruments which can be forged. It is argued that the law includes in articles that can be forged a passage ticket or obligation in writing, and that a pass does not fall within the terms, and therefore, though Eldridge may have written the name of Woods in the pass he did not commit a felony.

BEAT HIS WIFE.

John McKenzie was arrested last evening, accused by his wife of battery, who says he struck her repeatedly because she accused him of preparing to desert her and their two children. He was released on depositing $200 cash bail.

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED.

The City Council last night confirmed the fire department nominees, elected recently, the only exception being the nomination of Chap Taylor, to succeed Al Glavin as fire chief. Al Glavin, Glavin being appointed to his old position by the Council. The Council awarded the contract for furnishing oil for street sprinkling to C. E. Lapp of Los Angeles for 67 cents per barrel.

COLTON.

MINISTERS IN SESSION.

COLTON, June 5.—The Methodist Ministers Association of San Bernardino and Riverside counties met this morning in the First Methodist Episcopal Church. There were present, Rev. L. A. Rice of Del Rosa, Rev. L. G. Spring of Upland, Rev. J. C. Livingston of Rialto, Rev. F. D. Mather of Ontario, Rev. A. B. Morrison of Cucamonga, Rev. Lloyd of High Grove, Rev. F. A. Baker of Artesia, Rev. Robert Parker of Colton. The devotional service was conducted by Rev. Morrison. Rev. Humphrey presented an interesting paper on "Sin and Holiness."

COLTON NOT FORGOTTEN.

Colton Chamber of Commerce was not forgotten by Senator Clark. Secretary M. O. Hert of that organization has received a letter from P. K. Rule, inviting three members of the Chamber of Commerce to the exposition at Salt Lake City on June 10. A special meeting will be held in the City Hall to determine who will be the three representatives from Colton.

BIG MEETING OF CELERY MEN.

IMPORTANT SESSION IN THE PEATLANDS SECTION.

More Than Three Hundred Ranchers of That Fertile District in Attendance—Santa Ana City Trustees May Increase the Water Rates. Tide Lands Case Decided.

SANTA ANA. June 6.—As a fitting close to one of the most successful years in the history of the celery industry, members of the Orange County Celery Growers' Association and friends to the number of about 300 gathered yesterday at Wintersburg Armory Hall for the all-day meeting. The greater part of the day was spent in the consideration of a series of valuable and interesting papers by experts in the celery business. W. F. Cronemiller, representing the California Vegetable Union, which acts as marketing agent for the association, gave a detailed account of the work of the last year. W. E. Gerhart followed with a discussion of the present celery situation in the East.

A paper of marked local applicability was read by H. S. Hartline, told the story of the growing celery civilization and its advantages for the farmer. W. M. Cole, E. A. Curtis gave something of the early struggles to get the industry on its feet. At noon barbecue ox, with the proper accompaniments, was served at the entire assembly. In the afternoon the following board of directors was chosen: Edward Chaffee, Sherman

OFFICE FIGHT. MILLER MAULED.

WM. STARBUCK ATTACKS ROOM-MATE AND HAIR FLIES.

Stirring Set-to in Byrne Block Office of Sanitarium Company Proves Unhealthy for Manager Who is Brutally Beaten by Burly Secretary, and Choked.

SPORTING NOTE.—At the conclusion of the bloody finish fight ever seen in the boxing ring office, William Starbuck, heavy-weight boxer, who avenged the decision yesterday morning over H. E. Miller, featherweight, 125 pounds. Miller was hopelessly outclassed physically and scientifically from the first, lasting but one round.

The men entered the ring, room 428 Byrne building, at 9:30 a.m. and waived the customary ceremony of shaking hands. Miller stood out for soft bandages, but also waived the point until after the mill.

They engaged at 9:45. Starbuck rushed fiercely and Miller was forced to break ground. Starbuck swung right to jaw and dropped Miller for the count. Whereupon the referee, Miss Thumpkneys, precipitately fled, together with the audience of two. Miller, groggy but reasonably game, and sought to pacify his assailant. Starbuck again rushed and landed heavily, knocking down his slight opponent. Miller rose and tried to retreat, but was cornered and dropped again. Starbuck then used London prize ring tactics and tried to throttle Miller, who was completely out and unable to defend himself.

"The first we knew of it was when one of the boys came in and laid the battered body of Mr. Miller was dragged in by Starbuck, with a guff order to 'pack him up,'" said Dr. Lawrence Sevier yesterday. Dr. Sevier is a dentist at 614 Byrne building and has an office with Dr. J. W. Trueworthy, who stayed with him and "patched up" his badly contused scalp, a well-choked throat and other injuries too numerous to mention.

Starbuck and Miller, the two combatants, are respectively, secretary and manager of a sanitarium concern. The fight, the nature of which might suppose that the game would be a healthy business, but Mr. Miller last night had his doubts.

The assault by Mr. Starbuck was totally and completely unprovoked. We find no disagreement in the conduct of the two persons business. The manager was perfectly within my authority and simply tried to "hold down" Starbuck from making some foolish moves that he contemplated. I succeeded for some time, but yesterday he flew into a towering rage at me without any provocation, and landed in a most brutal fashion. I am no match for him physically; he weighs 225 pounds and is six feet two or three inches tall, as well as very powerful. I tried to get out and away from him, but he would not let me do so. I got near the door and finally choked me into insensibility. I was afraid he would kill me. I did not fight back; had not strike a single blow. All I did was to try to get away from him. Finally, I think, he saw what he was doing and became crazy. He left a card on the desk saying he would return at 12:30, but he did not, and I haven't seen him since—and don't want to."
